Second Sunday of Easter

Sunday of Divine Mercy

again: The first man, being from the earth, is earthly by nature; the second man is from heaven and is heavenly.
 He adds the following: As we have borne the image of the earthly man, (that is, the image of human nature grown old in sin) so let us bear the image of the heavenly man: that is, human nature raised up, redeemed, restored and purified in Christ. We must hold fast to the salvation we have received. As the Apostle himself says: Christ is the beginning (that is, the source of resurrection and life); therefore those who belong to Christ (those who model their lives on his purity) will be secure in the hope of his resurrection and of enjoying with him the glory promised in heaven. As our Lord himself said in the gospel: Whoever follows me will not perish, but will pass from death to life.

From the Pastor: Christ the source of resurrection and life: from an Easter homily by an ancient author excerpted from The Liturgy of the Hours:
